Community Spotlight: Jerome Adams

The Community Spotlight series is a monthly column where the Town of Forest Heights recognizes an individual who has accomplished great work and/or has made a significant impact in the community. To nominate a person, please email suggestions to liu.y.mimi@gmail.com or call 301-839-1030.

This month's Community Spotlight is Ward I resident Jerome Adams.

Mr. Adams, a United States Navy veteran and University of Maryland University College graduate, is a professional scuba diver who belongs to an organization called the Underwater Adventure Seekers (<http://www.uasdivers.org>).

UAS is a Washington, D.C.-based organization comprised of recreational divers who are dedicated to the principle of safe diving, physical fitness, volunteerism and environmental conservation. Established in 1959 by Dr. Albert José Jones, the group also subsequently founded the National Association of Black Scuba Divers (<http://www.nabsdivers.org>), and today continues to serve as a role model for other clubs that are under the NABS umbrella. Members, including Mr. Adams, have dived all across the world.

"They say that God has a different color paint brush for the ocean," Mr. Adams said. "Scuba diving is a very intimate sport. It's very exhilarating. I always get excited on every dive because you're always hoping to see something new. I've seen stingrays, manta rays, all types of sharks, groupers —just about every fish you can imagine.

Mr. Adams said he also cares deeply about preserving the environment. He and other UAS members regularly volunteer for cleanups of the Anacostia River, and he has been involved with the local Oxon Run stream cleanups. UAS also hosts community outreach events, including a program called Diving with a Purpose (DWP), which provides youths the opportunity to take part in underwater archaeology education.

He said being a part of UAS has taught him many life skills and lessons.

"There's no such thing as quitting; there are no excuses," he said. "It's also one of those sports where you cannot do it by yourself. You have to have a diving partner with you. You also have to be accountable to everybody. If somebody's in trouble, it's your job to go over there and help them."

Mr. Adams is also passionate about educating youths, and has been specially engaged within the Forest Heights-Oxon Hill community. He underwent training to become Scout Leader for the new Boy Scout Troop in the Town of Forest Heights, and is currently seeking more help and involvement from men in the community.

He is the President and CEO of a local organization called Beating The Bully LLC (www.beatingthebully.net), which he established to help high school students and young adults embrace a more positive way of thinking and seeing the world. He serves as a motivational speaker at schools and churches, and his website provides clothing emblazoned with positive messages.

FOREST HEIGHTS POLICE DEPARTMENT

June was a busy, productive month for the Forest Heights Police Department, as well as for the Town Administration. The annual Maryland Municipal League Conference was held in Ocean City, Maryland. The conference provides an abundance of educational topics referencing Municipal Governments throughout the State of Maryland. Please do not forget to mark your calendar for the upcoming events throughout the Town. The Forest Heights Police Department will be participating in the nationwide event, "National Night Out" Tuesday, August 05, 2014 at (Tayac Park). The events will include food and beverages and will give you and your neighbors a chance to network in a neighborhood atmosphere.

Making History in the Town of Forest Heights and Beyond

In February 2014, President Barack Obama launched his "My Brother's Keeper" initiative to address persistent opportunity gaps faced by boys and young men of color and ensure that all young people can reach their full potential.

Through this initiative, the Administration is joining with cities and towns, businesses, and foundations who are taking important steps to connect young people to mentoring, support networks, and the skills they need to find a good job or go to college and work their way into the middle class.

As a public servant and as a concerned parent and citizen, I have always been devoted toward finding ways to help our young men in need. So when the President issued his call to action in February, I decided to issue my own call to action by inviting all of our officials and civic leaders from Prince George's County to come together and discuss ways to carry out the President's initiative, which was what took place on June 28th at the Forest Heights Municipal Building.

History was indeed made that day. We had about 30 leaders and visionaries from different fields and backgrounds – religious organizations, nonprofit groups, private, public, labor/employment, education, health and more – brainstorm and offer viable solutions, partnerships and opportunities for "My Brother's Keeper" in Prince George's County, and most importantly, devise specific strategies for implementing those solutions and partnerships. Though I had hoped for more attendees, I was still very pleased with the camaraderie that had developed that day, the terrific exchange of ideas that took place, and the feeling that we were on the brink of something new and wonderful that will indelibly leave a mark in our county's history and beyond.

I want to thank all who had attended the forum and who have agreed to move forward. I would also like to thank the Forest Heights-Oxon Hill CDC and the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission for providing food and refreshments. I would also like to acknowledge Kito James — former Mayor of Capitol Heights — and Town Planner Linwood Robinson for moderating the program and for keeping everyone on track. The action begins Monday, June 30th!

If you were not able to attend the forum but would like to get involved in our efforts, please contact me at: jacquelinegoodall@msn.com.

Message from Town Administrator

Storm Sewer Update: As most Residents on the West Side of Forest Heights know, we have Three Serious Storm Sewer Issues (1) Is located at the corner of Seneca Dr. and Woodland Dr. on both sides of the street and is a County Storm Sewer according to the Town's Engineer, Pennoni Engineering.

The (2) location is at the corner of Seneca Dr. and Mohican Dr., most of you are aware that this problem has existed for at least 12 months with continued assurances from the County that it will be fixed and we were told that Seneca Dr. / Woodland Dr. was under contract and work was projected to start in May or June. When we had the sink hole at the Storm Sewer on the north side of the street, the county dumped dirt in the sink hole and still we had a problem so then they dumped concrete in the hole and we still have a problem. Then we were told the two storm sewers are connected and the county will have to cut up the street to fix the problem.

We were advised by the county department of public works that we will meet on July 1st at 10 a.m., (County, SHA, and Town of Forest Height) to review this issue. In addition, the Town has reached out to WSSC and the Town's Engineer (Pennoni Engineering) to participate in this meeting with us.

We still have the issue at the corner of Seneca Dr. and Mohican Dr. where we have some drainage issues as well. This is also a County Storm Sewer and it has been placed on their repair list.

We are pleased to report significant progress was made in May, June on the Pot Holes; and we should be finished by July. Major street/curb repair was completed on Seneca Dr. Pepco completed significant repair to Arapahoe Dr. from damage by their sub station. The Town to new Street Vacuum was busy as well. The new Leaf Vacuum was also in action.

Salubria Exhibit/Visitor Center Opens at Tanger Outlets

Prince George's County Executive Rushern L. Baker III and a number of county and state officials and civic leaders cut the ribbon on the new Experience Salubria: Potomac River Heritage Visitors Center June 3 at the Tanger Outlets. According to the county, the new center features a Memorial Garden and History Walk focusing on the Salubria community. Salubria was once a plantation owned by Dr. John Bayne and where in 1834 a 14-year-old slave girl named Judah had poisoned her master's children and was later sentenced to death, becoming possibly the youngest woman ever to be executed in the United States. Visitors will learn about the lives of the people who had resided at Salubria and near the Potomac shore through large outdoor panel displays. They will also learn about significant African-American history through exhibits, archaeological artifacts, projection shows, reading panels and literature. The address is 6800 Oxon Hill Road, Oxon Hill, MD.

Statement from Mr. Davis: "The Glassmanor Citizens Association created an inspiring event that was visually and emotionally stunning from the time you entered the space. It was as special as any event I've attended in the Nation's Capital. It was well attended, with folks coming from as far as North Carolina to show support. Ms. Fisher executed the event with such class and dignity for those that served and got everyone involved — from the kids to the seniors. The day took on special meaning for me because my wife and her father had served honorably in the Army and Marines, respectively. My family and I greatly respect what the Armed Services contribute to our society and I want to thank the Glassmanor Citizens Association, Ms. Jacqueline Key and Ms. JoAnn Fisher for making a day that many people ignore, a day in which the Town of Forest Heights will never forget. I have truly learned that we can make no progress without teamwork. Thank you for serving!"

Forest Heights was proud to have taken part in 2014 Memorial Day Ceremony honoring our fallen heroes and heroines at the May 24 Memorial Day Ceremony co-hosted by the Glassmanor Citizens Association and the Forest Heights-Oxon Hill CDC. The following people need to be acknowledged and thanked for their hard work and leadership in planning this special event: JoAnn Fisher, chair of the Women Veterans Committee at Disabled American Veterans; Jacqueline Key, president of the Glassmanor Citizens Association; and Jahi Davis, Executive Director of the Forest Heights-Oxon Hill Community Development Corporation. Some funding was also provided by the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission/Prince George's County Department of Parks and Recreation. This year's guest speaker was Lt. Col. Warren Christo-

HEAL Community Designation

Forest Heights was recently highlighted in the Healthy Eating Active Living (HEAL) Cities & Towns Campaign for the Mid-Atlantic newsletter for its health initiatives. The Town joined the HEAL Cities & Towns Campaign in February 2013, and became the second community in the Mid-Atlantic region to do so. As part of the campaign requirements, the Town Council had to submit a HEAL resolution that set forth the Town's commitment to making it easier for residents to eat better and move more. In Resolution No. 12-13, the Town Council had allocated money for a part-time health program coordinator.

HEAL Cities & Towns provide free technical assistance and support to local elected officials and their staff to adopt policies that stem the obesity epidemic and create healthy, prosperous communities in Maryland and Virginia's cities and towns. More information on HEAL Cities & Towns is available at <http://www.healcitiesmidatlantic.org>.

Update on Playground Groundbreaking

Our Playground Build Day and Prep Days will be rescheduled to later this summer, most likely in August. We apologize for the inconvenience. Please continue to follow our Town newsletter and Facebook page for the latest news/updates.

Construction on the new tot lot at 121 Mohican Drive will be completed by early September with a ribbon cutting ceremony scheduled.

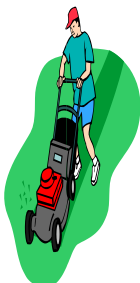

We are still seeking volunteers! If you are interested in helping out, please contact Ms. Turner at 202-330-3042.

Sock Hop Fundraiser a Huge Success

Thanks to everyone who came out and showed their support at the June 21 Forest Heights-Oxon Hill CDC Sock Hop Fundraiser. The mission of the Forest Heights-Oxon Hill CDC is to enhance the Forest Heights-Oxon Hill communities through programs that improve housing, economic conditions, planning, sustainability, health education and the general well being of the community it serves. This was a great way for the community to come together and have some fun, all while supporting a worthwhile cause!

We would like to acknowledge Jahi Davis, Executive Director of the FHOHCDC, the FHOHCDC board members, Ward II Councilwoman Cynthia Mann and the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission for their planning and collaboration, with terrific food and entertainment provided by T.B.A.G. Caterers LLC and Coolepoole Productions respectively. Thanks to the Forest Heights Police Department for their assistance.
